Is It Worth It?

It is expensive if:

- You don't use it to spot trends and validate ideas
- You sign up and never log in
- You're looking for a magic button that prints money
- You're not actually going to build anything

It's the cheapest thing you'll ever buy if:

- You use it to validate even one idea that becomes a cash-flowing side project
- You see a trend 6 weeks early and build before the market gets saturated
- You avoid wasting 3 months building something nobody wants

- You launch a $50K/MRR business that changes your entire life

Only you can answer that.

Who's Behind Ideabrowser

Built by Greg Isenberg and the Late Checkout Team

I run a portfolio of internet companies at Late Checkout and host The Startup Ideas Podcast.

I've started and sold 3 venture-backed community companies. Now, I self-fund things.

I built Ideabrowser for myself. I can't wait to see what you build.

THE DIFFERENCE

Before vs After Ideabrowser

Stop wasting months. Start shipping.

Without Ideabrowser

- ✕ Spending months manually researching markets and competitors

- Every AI interaction starts from scratch. No memory, no context, generic output
- No clear roadmap - piecing together advice from 47 different gurus, X bookmarks and videos.
- Building without validation - hoping people will want to buy.
- Copy-pasting between ChatGPT, Notion, Google Docs. Nothing connects
- Launching with no feedback or support system
- Hiring expensive consultants at $200-500/hour when stuck
- Giving up at the first major roadblock or thinking "just one more feature and then I'll get customers.

Get Unstuck

Join a community of builders who are shipping, growing, and winning together

"Startup Empire gave me something rare; the courage and community to actually share what I've built. I came in quietly working on ideas, and this space turned that into confident execution. The feedback, structure, and generosity here helped me refine my vision and get ready to ship something that can generate real $$$ and impact. It's more than a program, it's a launchpad for builders with heart."
